FEBRUARY 5, 2011, TRIBAL COUNCIL MEETING

The following is a list of activities that occurred in the office of the President for the month of January 2011.

- I attended a number of committee meetings this month including hiring, gaming, retirement, and others. I also attended a department head meeting during the month.
- I received a copy of the current strategic plan from the Keweenaw Bay Ojibwa Community College. The plan is currently being revised again by faculty and staff for the upcoming accreditation visit. I also received the college's quarterly report as required by the MOA.
- Yvette Frisvoll has completed her review of the Tribal Code Book. The attorney's office is formatting and reviewing her changes, so it can be printed.
- The Isle Royale National Park would like to meet with four tribal representatives regarding their new cultural resources management plan. The Tribal Historical Preservation Office has been participating in the public listening session. I met with a next meeting will take place on February 17th from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. in Duluth, Minnesota, at the Great Lakes Aquatic Research Facility. It’s an important opportunity to broadly discuss issues and concerns regarding landscape treatment alternatives for the Washington and Barnum Island landscapes with representatives from key stakeholder groups with an interest in Isle Royale National Park. The Council approved landscape designations in the case.
- The House National Resources Committee Chairman-elect, Doc Hastings, was named subcommittee chairman for the 112th Congress. He announced the establishment of a new subcommittee on Indian and Alaska Native Affairs. Article 1, Section 8, Clause 3, of the Constitution delegates to Congress the power to regulate trade with Indian tribes, and in the House of Representatives the Natural Resources Committee is assigned jurisdiction over this power. Oversight and legislative responsibilities for Indian and Alaska Native affairs were previously handled by the full committee.
- The Keweenaw Bay Tribal council adopted ordinance number 2010-04, Title 3, Chapter 1, Motor Vehicle Code of 2010. This is an ordinance of the Keweenaw Bay Indian Community adopted under the authority of the Constitution and By-Laws of the Keweenaw Bay Indian Community for the purpose of authorizing and regulating the issuance of certificates of title for motor vehicles; regulating the registration of motor vehicles; and repealing certain laws, resolutions and motions of the Tribal Council pertaining to titling and registration of motor vehicles.
- I conducted two employee reviews during the month. A review was done on the TEREO Director and the Executive Director of CIGTO.
- I was informed by Jerry Santos that the CITGO Venezuela Heating Oil Program will continue again this winter. This winter marks the second year of the program, and the third year the Community was able to take advantage in this program. The Community’s application was submitted for approval.
- I received a letter from Dennis Knapp, Tribal Liaison for the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. In his letter he expresses concern regarding the methodologies used to estimate Lake Trout populations and to estimate Lake Trout TAC’s in 1842 ceded territory waters located in Michigan. He asks to meet to discuss a way to “cooperatively develop models for future management consideration.” We are in the process of gathering the biologist’s information and doing an analysis of the data. I’m confident the Community is using appropriate methodologies in estimating populations and setting the appropriate TAC’s (TAC’s) given available data.
- The Council participated in operation Red, White, and Blue Phase 4. It’s where we support our deployed military and soldiers overseas. This event was put on by the 6th graders from Baraga Area School. We also donated to a similar event put on by the numbers of families in L’Anse and the L’Anse 5th grade class.
- The Council affirmed the recommendation of the President to appoint William Winkler Jondreau as Justice of the Appellate Division of the Tribal Court. Jondreau accepted the three-year appointment. I wrote a letter to Justice Palmer expressing gratitude for his support of the Court, thank him for his services, and stating that he would be paid for his services on the two cases under his existing contract which will be extended through the date his work has been completed.
- The Tribal Council approved the following to the list of applicants for KBOCC Board of Regenrators: John Brozzo, Shirley McKinsey, Diana Chaud- ier, and Loretta Hugo.
- The January 14, 2011 report from Hum Resource indicates the state indicates the KBOCC government employs about 70% of Indians on its workforce. This concludes my report for the month of January 2011.

Respectfully submitted,
Warren C. Swartz, Jr., President

FEBRUARY 2011 TREASURER’S REPORT

Activities reported by the Treasurer, Eddy Edwards, for the month of February 2011. The Treasurer’s report was given verbally and transcribed by the newsletter editor.

Our employee benefits are our number one expense. The Council has approved interviewing two firms, Cottingham & Butler, and Johnson & M3, to analyze the insurance and make sure we are getting the best deal and that it is the best fit for the facilities and the number of employees that we do have. An interpretation of our business activities, from the first quarter of the fiscal year and relative to this same period of time last year. Our Baraga Casino has seen a decrease of 9% in house players and the Marquette Casino has seen a 3% increase in house profit. This is before a slot machine upgrade of a million dollars for both Casinos that will occur soon. Over the last several years, we have been in a downward trend. We are reinvesting into both Casino to change the trend. Eagle Radio’s revenue is ahead of projection. The gross profits from cigarette sales at the Casino in Marquette are higher than they were at this time last year. At Tribal Construction, an inventory of all the equipment is nearly complete, and we will be addressing those assets and assigning some of those assets to the newly formed Public Works Department. So that I report on the construction businesses, and I am always open to questions from the members about the funds of our Community.

Respectfully submitted,
Eddy Edwards, Treasurer

The guidelines include a point system which will be used to prioritize homes to have the audits completed and funds available through various programs will assist with the cost of updating the homes. Some of the funds have income guidelines while others do not. The weatherization office will be sending out information to every member in the approved service area to ensure everyone has the opportunity to apply. There will be deadlines to initially apply and once the deadline has passed, the approved selection list will be created, and the audits will be conducted. If anyone has questions after receiving the information they are encouraged to contact the weatherization office. The new office at Tribal Government Works will have work crews within the department which will complete the work on the homes.

The individuals upon whom the project were relieved due to the unsafe nature of the project and inequity of workers involved. After meeting with the necessary staff, it was decided that the Bill Baunaw Tree removal team, with the proper experience and certification would complete the project. They will resume working in early February and the project is expected to be completed by late February to early March.

KBIC Seniors 55 years and up can have their income tax preparation completed for free. Keith Rolof will again be making appointments with interested seniors again this year. Flyers have been distributed and are also available at the Ojibwa Seniors Center.

On January 24th I participated in a Fox UP/TV6 News interview regarding the Tribes plans to locate a new gas station and convenience store at the property they purchased from the Los Tres Amigos restaurant site in Marquette. The interview was requested after Fox UP/TV6 News aired an initial story on December 29th. Andrea Nominelli, KBIC’s Economic Developer, provided them with information regarding the project at my request. The news story garnered over 6,000 hits on the Fox UP’s web site of which a majority were positive but some negative. The interview provided an opportunity to give facts and address any concerns related to the project. Several of the negative comments related to how the Tribe doesn’t pay taxes. During the interview I relayed the fact that the Tribe has contributed nearly $8 million dollars to state and federal roads programs and that the Tribe also pays 2% distributions to local units of governments based on net slot machine revenue. I also had the opportunity to provide facts related to the taxes associated with gasoline and how they relate to the Tribe and their ability to sell the fuel at a discounted rate. The negative story, in my opinion, did provide a positive light on the project and the additional comments on Fox UP’s site following the airing of the interview were again mostly positive with no negative.

As always, if anyone has questions, concerns, or issues that the CEO’s office can assist with, please don’t hesitate to stop, e-mail, or call.

Respectfully submitted,
Larry J. Denomie, III, CEO

Important information about the $3.4 billion Indian Trust Settlement

For current or former IIM account holders,
Owners of land held in trust or restricted status, or their heirs

There is a proposed Settlement in Cobell v. Salazar, a class action lawsuit about individual Indian land held in trust by the federal government. This notice is just a summary. For details, call the toll-free number or visit the website listed below.

The lawsuit claims that the federal government violated its duties by (a) mismanaging trust funds/assets, (b) improperly accounting for those funds, and (c) mismanaging trust land/assets. The trust funds include money collected from farming and grazing leases, timber sales, mining, and oil and gas production from land owned by American Indian/Alaska Natives. If you are included in the Settlement, your rights will be affected. To object to the Settlement, to comment on it, or to exclude yourself, you should get a detailed notice at www.IndianTrust.com or by calling 1-800-961-6109.

Can I get money?
There are two groups or “Classes” in the Settlement eligible for payment. Each Class includes individual IIM account holders or owners of land held in trust or restricted status who were alive on September 30, 2009.

Historical Accounting Class Members
- Had an open individual Indian Money account ("IIM") anytime between October 25, 1994 and September 30, 2009, and
- Had at least one cash transaction.
- Includes estates of account holders who died as of September 30, 2009, if the IIM account was still open on that date.

Trust Administration Class Members
- Had an IIM account recorded in currently available data in federal government systems any time from approximately 1985 to September 30, 2009, or
- Owned trust land or land in restricted status as of September 30, 2009.
- Includes estates of landowners who died as of September 30, 2009 where the trust interests were in probate as of that date. This means you have asked a court to transfer ownership of the deceased landowner’s property.

An individual may be included in one or both Classes.

What does the Settlement provide?
- A $1.5 billion fund to pay those included in the Classes.
- A $1.9 billion fund to buy small interests in trust or restricted land owned by many people.
- Up to $60 million to fund scholarships to improve access to higher education for Indian youth.
- A government commitment to reform the Indian trust management and accounting system.

How much can I get?
- Historical Accounting Class Members will each get $1,000.
- Trust Administration Class Members will get at least $500.
- If you own a small parcel of land with many other people, the federal government may ask you to sell it. You will be offered fair market value. If you sell your land it will be returned to tribal control.

If you believe your are a member of either Class and are not receiving IIM account statements, you will need to call the toll-number or visit the website to register.

What are my other rights?
- If you wish to keep your right to sue the federal government about the claims in this Settlement, you must exclude yourself by April 20, 2011.
- If you stay in the Settlement you can object to or comment on it by April 20, 2011. The detailed notice explains how to exclude yourself or object/comment.

The U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia will hold a hearing on June 20, 2011, to consider whether to approve the Settlement. It will also consider a request for attorneys’ fees, costs, and expenses in the amount of $59.9 million. However, Class Counsel has fee agreements that would pay them 14.75% of the funds created for the Classes, which could result in an award of $223 million. The Court may award more or less than these amounts based on controlling law. If approved, these payments and related costs will come out of the Settlement funds available for payment to Class Members.

If you wish, you or your own lawyer may ask to appear and speak at the hearing at your own cost. For more information, call or go to the website shown below or write to Indian Trust Settlement, P.O. Box 9577, Dublin, OH 43017-4877.

Jaylen George, Chair of the Beta Test Steering Committee, represented the PHAB Board of Directors as he provided comments and presented the recognitions to each site. He stated: “We must have the hard work and commitment of the beta test sites, PHAB’s work on accreditation would not be where it is today, etc.”

Children and Violence

A recent U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ)-funded study concluded that a majority of children in the United States have been exposed to violence, crime, or abuse in their homes, schools, and communities. The consequences of this problem are significant and widespread. Children’s exposure to violence, whether as victims or witnesses, is often associated with long-term physical, psychological, and emotional harm. Children exposed to violence are at a higher risk of engaging in criminal behavior later in life and becoming part of a cycle of violence.

FAST FACTS

- Children exposed to violence are more likely to abuse drugs and alcohol; suffer from depression, anxiety, and post-traumatic disorders; fail or have difficulty in school; and become delinquent and engage in criminal behavior.
- Sixty percent of American children were exposed to violence, crime, or abuse in their homes, schools, and communities.
- Almost 40 percent of American children were direct victims of 2 or more violent acts, and 1 in 10 were victims of violence 5 or more times.
- Children are more likely to be exposed to violence and crime than adults.
- Almost 1 in 3 American children saw one family member assault another family member, and more than 25 percent had been exposed to family violence before their 18th birthday.
- A child’s exposure to one type of violence increases the likelihood that the child will be exposed to other types of violence and exposure multiple times.

Keweenaw Bay Indian Community Officials attend President Obama’s speech at NMU

President Swartz and I were fortunate and honored to be able to attend President Obama’s speech at Northern Michigan University on February 10, 2011, regarding their WiMax Technology and his “National Wireless Initiative” that he also spoke about a few weeks ago during his State of the Union address. It took one hour standing in line and getting through security at the Superior Dome to hear his speech at the Vandament Arena which lasted about one half hour. We shared the event with representatives from the Sault Tribe, Hannahville Indian Community, and Chairman Shively of LacVieux Desert. The Chairman from the Oreilda Tribe was also in attendance. President Wong from NMU gave a short speech, and we also heard remarks from U.S. Senator Carl Levin who flew here with the President. He stated to the crowd that President Obama commented on how beautiful the Upper Peninsula is even in winter from the Air Force One window before landing at Sawyer International Airport. It was an exciting, historic occasion for all of us.

~ Susan J. LaFerriere, Tribal Council Secretary

KBOCC President Debra J. Parrish was also honored to attend this historic event.

PRESS RELEASE — CHRIS SWARTZ — KEWEENAW BAY INDIAN COMMUNITY PRESIDENT

Keweenaw Bay Indian Community; 2010 Walleye, Brook Trout, and Lake Trout Stocking Milestones

2010 was another good year for the Keweenaw Bay Indian Tribe’s Natural Resource Department stocking program. Walleye Rearing and Stocking:

For many years our Community has wanted to develop a walleye rearing and stocking program to raise walleye for stocking into local waters. Construction of our walleye rearing facility finished in 2008, and in 2009, we started raising walleye for stocking. The first year produced 16,450 walleye, 3-6 inches in size, which we stocked into Keweenaw and Huron Bays. 2010 was a tough year for the walleye programs. Unusual spring weather seemed to affect walleye spawning success in many areas. We did, however, manage to produce 12,581 walleye, 3-7 inches in size, which were stocked into the Pike Bay area of Portage Lake and into Keweenaw and Huron Bays. Our Natural Resource Department staff thinks that many of these walleye should start reaching harvest size over the next 2-4 years. We are very proud to have our walleye stocking program operating successfully and are looking forward to continuing to build on our initial success.

Brook Trout:

Since 1993 our Community has been stock¬ing brook trout to restore depleted populations in the western Upper Peninsula of Michigan. The brook trout we raise for stocking is a Lake Superior strain that we developed from the Jumbo River in the Ottawa National Forest. In 2010 we stocked 72,809 Jumbo River brook trout into selected streams in the western Upper Peninsula. Brook trout stocked varied from fry size to 6 inches in length. In addition to our Jumbo River brook trout we also stock Siski¬ wit Bay strain coaster trout into local waters. Coaster brook trout were once common along the south shore of Lake Superior but are now fairly rare since overfishing, habitat degradation, and non-native species introductions severely reduced their numbers to a few remnant popula¬tions. In 2010 we stocked a total of 37,481 coaster brook trout into Keweenaw Bay area waters. Since we began our brook trout rearing program in 1997, our Natural Resource Department has stocked a total of 983,787 brook trout into Western Upper Peninsula streams and rivers to help restore populations of this native trout to the area.

Lake Trout: Since 1993 our Community has raised and stocked lean lake trout into Lake Superior to help restore populations to self-sustain¬ing levels. In December of 2010 our Lake Trout stocking program passed the 1.5 million mark for Lake Trout stocked into Lake Superior since 1993. Since the founding of our Natural Resource Department our Lake Trout rearing and stocking program and our hatchery facility have become active participants in the Fishery Restoration Plan for Lake Superior developed by the Great Lakes Fishery Commission, and we’re very proud of our participation. According to our Natural Resource Department staff the Lake Trout that we stock make up about 50% of the lean Lake Trout present in lower Keweenaw Bay, helping to make Keweenaw Bay one of the best lake trout fishing areas in Lake Superior. For further information please contact our Natural Resource Department at (906) 524-5757.

Over the past few weeks many of you have received information either by mail, posting, radio and/or television regarding the proposed Indian Trust Settlement (Settlement) in Cobell v. Salazar. A class action lawsuit regarding individual Indian land and assets held in trust by the federal government.

The Cobell v. Salazar case began in June of 1996 when Elouise Cobell, an enrolled member of the Blackfeet Tribe, filed a lawsuit against the United States Department of Interior (DOI) and the United States Treasury Department (Treasury) for the mismanagement of individual Indian Money (IIM) Accounts. The lawsuit claims that the federal government violated its duties by mismanaging trust fund assets, improperly accounting for those funds, and mismanaging trust land assets. The trust funds which are the subject of the lawsuit include money collected from farming and grazing leases, timber sales, oil and gas production, and mining on land owned by American Indians/Alaska Natives (i.e. Allotted Lands). The settlement in Cobell v. Salazar comes after 15 years of fighting with the DOI and Treasury in the federal courts.

The $3.4 billion negotiated Settlement is broken down into three parts. According to the Settlement: (1) $1.5 billion will be used to pay the estimated 500,000 plus Class members for the mismanagement of trust funds and assets; (2) $1.9 billion will be used to purchase fractional interests in trust lands for the tribe having jurisdiction; and (3) $60 million will be used to fund scholarships to improve access to higher education for Indian youth.

There has been speculation by some that agreeing to this Settlement means losing your land. That is not true. It is extremely important to understand that the sale of any lands will be strictly voluntary. No one will be forced into selling their land by accepting this Settlement.

Individual Indian Money or IIM accounts, according to the Bureau of Indian Affairs “automatically created when a person inherits any kind of trust assets, including land”. This means that any Indian who owns or has owned trust lands or assets – currently inherits any kind of trust assets, including land”. This means that a Class member is listed in the paid add on Page seven of this edition of the WIIKWEDONG DAZHI-OJIBWE. Class members are divided into two groups - (1) Historical Accounting and (2) Trust Administration. The Historical Accounting part of the settlement pays you for the federal government’s inability to provide an accurate accounting or statement of your IIM account as required by the Trust Reform Act of 1994. You are not able to exclude yourself from this Class. The Trust Administration part of the Settlement pays you for the federal government’s mismanagement of individual land and assets. You are able to exclude yourself from this Class if you wish in order to retain your right to sue the federal government for the claims made in the Settlement. Instructions for excluding yourself can be found by contacting the Garden City Group Call Center at 1-800-961-6109. Keep in mind that if you are included in the Settlement, your right to file later suits may be affected.

The Indian Trust Settlement is a complex issue and we will strive to relay important and correct information to our Tribal members. We have contacted the legal team representing the Class and an informational meeting will be held the week of March 28. The exact date and time will be announced on the Tribe’s website and in local newspapers, as soon as all arrangements are made. We encourage you to attend if you have any questions and we will be there to assist you.
