The Keweenaw Bay Tribal Education Committee held the annual Senior Banquet on Friday, June 5, 2015, honoring the L’Anse, Baraga, and Community School Graduates. Terri Denomie welcomed the graduates, their families, Tribal Education Staff, teachers and administrators, fellow Tribal Education Committee members, and friends to this year’s event. Woodland Singers provided the drum for the welcome song and a honor song. Following a delicious meal, Violet M. Friisvall Ayres, Education Committee member, introduced the guest speaker, Christine Awonohopay. This past December, Christine received her Bachelor’s Degree in Early Childhood Education from Northern Michigan University with a minor in Native American Studies. Christine is today the Early Literacy Coordinator at the Keweenaw Bay Ojibwa Community College. Christine said, “I was told by Adam Lussier (spiritual leader) about a road or a path that we all live on, and it is up to us on how we make our choices and on how we handle our travel on the road that will lead you. The road may be filled with many bumps, turns, forks in the road, and we need to be ready to make choices on how we are going to handle the challenges by weighing the pros and cons and possibly making compromises even when we are not sure we are making the right decisions. But you need to have the confidence and the patience in yourself to keep on raising your hands and to keep on taking you. I know this. So far the path has given me many amazing gifts. There have also been many bumps in the road as well. For all of our graduates, this is an important stop on your road, and a time to reflect on your high school experiences and the tools you were given at this time to make decisions on which way you are going to proceed down that path. It is important to know that there are many challenges, and it is up to you on how you are going to handle them and which way you are going to continue down that road. My road has lead me to getting my high school diploma almost 20 years ago at Baraga High School, obtaining my Associate’s Degree in 1997 at Bay de Noc Community College, and my Bachelor’s Degree in 2014 at Northern Michigan University where I majored in Early Childhood Education and minored in Native American Studies. It has also led me to have five amazing sons and a marriage of twelve years. My road of education was not an easy one; I had many challenges in my way, such as learning disabilities, but I didn’t let that stop me. With perseverance and determination I completed my educational goals. It took me 17 years to get my Bachelor’s Degree, and in those 17 years I was pretty much a non-traditional college student because at times I commuted, took classes on-line, worked full-time in preschool classrooms, raised my five sons, and in the last few years, took care of my husband who was sick and in the hospital. While in college at NMU, I learned a lot about myself and my life’s lessons. One lesson is that it is important to have a strong support system set up, so you can call on them whenever you need them. I have had the honor and pleasure to attend many graduation ceremonies this year, and I am so proud of each and every one of you for not giving up and staying on that road that you are creating. There are two common words that I’ve heard at all of these ceremonies, and they are perseverance and determination. I think those two words sum up my education as well. What does perseverance mean? The full definition of perseverance is the continued effort to do or achieve something despite difficulties, failure, or oppositions, or the quality that allows someone to continue to do something even though it is difficult. I feel determination is not giving up even though you may feel like it. So now it is a time to celebrate all the hard work through your high school years and to get ready for the future, whatever that may be. Good luck, and if you ever need words of encouragement, I will be there to help. Thank you for listening to me and to my village for being there when I needed you the most. Graduates please take time to close your eyes and think about what your roads may look like. Look at the past and then look into the future; hope it is bright and filled with many great things.

Starr Dunleavy Wins Reign As Little Miss Superior 2015

Starr Marie Dunleavy, eight-years-old, won the Little Miss Superior competition held during the Baraga County Lake Trout Festival on Saturday, June 13th. Starr is the daughter of Justin Dunleavy and Chrystal Tollefson, and the granddaughter of Hope and Dale Dakota and the (late) Sandy Tollefson and David Brunk, Sr. Starr said that she “decided to run for Little Miss Superior when a high school student gave me the application.” She was mentored by Miss KBIC Princess, Kayla Dakota, a L’Anse High School cheerleader with assistance from her fellow cheerleaders.

Starr attends Baraga Elementary School. Her favorite place to be is Buck’s Marina (Sand Point Campground) because she likes camping, fishing, and swimming. She also loves spending time at the L’Anse Park because it is right by the lake, and there’s a water pad. Starr enjoys attending pow-wows and dancing in her regalia; she is a fancy shawl dancer. Someday she would like to be a Special Education Teacher, so she can help kids who have a hard time learning, so she can be there for them and let them know she cares.

Starr has a dog named Oreo who is very special to her because he cuddles with her when she is sad. Starr said the two important people in her life are her dad because he takes care of her, and her uncle because he cares about her. Starr says her uncle is her tough guy. She added that her grandma is her role model in life because she works hard at her job and helps her dad take care of her and her brothers.

Things Starr would like to do that she hasn’t done yet are go to Disney World and learn how to figure skate. When asked to finish this sentence – One thing that makes me feel special is… Starr answered, “Being in front of a crowd and showing off my skills.”

Starr’s talent performance consisted of her remarkable gymnastic abilities. Her competition question was – What is your favorite holiday and why? Starr said, “That’s easy, it’s Thanksgiving because I like spending time with my family at my grandma’s house.”

GLENN BRESETTE, SR. NAMED MICHIGAN’S MARINE OF THE YEAR

Marquette, MI. Glenn D. Bressette, Sr., a KBIC Tribal Member, has been named Michigan Marine Corps League Marine of the Year for 2015 at the League Convention held in Lansing, Michigan, on June 13, 2015. Bressette served in the U.S. Marines from 1966-1970 as a helicopter gunner which included a Vietnam War tour in 1969. He served in “1 Corps” at the Marble Mountain Marine Base. He flew over 90 combat missions, received “Gunner Wings,” three “Air Medals,” and six other medals which he proudly displays.

Upon returning to civilian life, he has been very active with numerous Marine Corps League programs, especially the Toy for Tots campaign. Bressette works with five veteran groups and has been a very active supporter of the Jacobetti Home for Veterans. He has always been a great supporter for other veterans who struggle with their veteran benefits. He volunteers to drive veterans in the Veteran’s van from Marquette to the Iron Mountain VA Hospital and back.

“I served as the Department of Michigan Marine Corps League State Commander in 2005 and now have received the Marine of the Year Award. I am the only ‘Yooper’ and ‘Native American’ in the State of Michigan to do this, and I am a very proud Ogichidaa,” Bressette said. “The ones who chose me recognized the many things I do for the Marine Corps League and other veterans in the United States and here in Michigan. I was just shocked that they chose me, and when we say Semper Fi, we mean Semper Fi—brothers forever.”

Bressette dances in full regalia at powwows and won the two-step contest at the Keweenaw Bay Powwow in 2014. He has served as Head Veteran Dancer as well and was recognized as a Tribal Elder a few years back at the Keweenaw Bay Powwow.

Mr. Bressette will have possession of the award trophy for one year. He plans on participating in Marquette’s 4th of July parade alongside his fellow Marine Corps veterans.

All Tribal Veterans’ Meeting at the Lighthouse, Sand Point, will be held every third Wednesday of the month at 1900 hours.

All Tribal Veterans are Welcome!

During the month of May 2015, the CEO's office reports the following:

- On the 7th, several other staff and I participated in the Affordable Care Act (ACA) call with our health care insurance broker M3. The call related to changes in the Affordable Care Act the Tribe will be required to comply with in 2016. In 2015, the Tribe was required to offer health insurance benefits to all eligible employees, these are employees who work 30 or more hours, to avoid penalty. In 2016, the offer must be made to 95% of all eligible employees. Both the enterprise and government are utilizing a “Locked Back Method” in determining employees’ eligibility for health coverage, based on the average weekly hours they are working during the specified period. We will be running a preliminary analysis at the end of June and considering a couple of options discussed during the conference call. The staff involved in the monitoring will present the information in early July.

- During the week of the 10th, I, along with Vice President Misegan, Councilman Loonsfoot, and Interim Executive Director of our Housing Department, Vickie Dompiere, traveled to Scottsdale, AZ, to attend the AMERIND Risk/NAIHC (Native American Indian Housing Council) Annual Convention and Trade Show. A huge push is underway to promote the re-authorization of the NAHASDA (Native American Housing Assistance and Self Determination Act). The re-authorization has passed the House as HB310 and is awaiting Senate approval as SB710. It is expected to pass and will need final approval of President Obama who will likely sign as well. Two of the measures in the re-authorization, which provide the opportunity for home ownership in an affordable manner, were the HUD Section 814 program and the Native American Direct Loan Program for Veterans. We will continue to focus on programs further and determine how to best make the programs available to our members.

- On the 18th, I participated in an on-site meeting with Dept. of Interior BIA officials regarding issues related to the Tribe’s forestry and fire programs. The forestry discussion related to a letter sent by the Tribe to the BIA last year. The BIA was seeking clarification and direction in moving forward with future forestry related projects. Jerry Jondreau, KBIC Forester, will work on a plan to address the letter’s concerns as well as a Forest Management Plan. The fire discussion related in part to the determination of an agreed to agreement with the BIA which provides for reimbursement to the Tribe for fire details the Beartown Wildland Firefighters go out on throughout the year. A draft agreement will be presented in the near future.

- We are continuing our work with HUD officials to formalize the transition of the Tribe’s former Tribally Designated Housing Entity to a department of the Tribe. Vickie Dompiere is working on setting up on-site technical training which is expected to take place within the next 30-45 days and will discuss relevant topics of the transition.

- I will be requesting your review next week of the Employee Enterprise Manual that was provided as an FY15 update at your prior year meetings. I have met with the managers to review the draft to get their input and inserted their recommended changes as well. The manual is proposed to be utilized by the Holding Company business as well as the Pines and Eagle Radio.

- There has been a overlap in funds used to pay salaries and benefits for Lifetime Builders’ employees. Effective this week, I separated the source of pay based on the work that was being performed by those employees, which will provide additional funding for work that needs to be done on the housing homes. In conjunction with that change, I will present a formal organizational structure for the Housing Department at review and consideration next week.

- To assist the CFO with the financial operations for both the Housing Dept. and the Holding Co., a service agreement will be approved with Lake Accounting this coming week. We will also be posting for a Financial Manager for those entities next week which will replace two employees who resigned shortly after entities became departments of the Tribe.

- With your approval to offer the Ojibwa Casinos GM position to Joseph Oluicji, Jim Nardi, Human Resources Director and I are in the process of finalizing negotiations with him, so an Employment Agreement (EQA) will be proposed for your approval. We are hopeful that we will have that before you for consideration next week.

- We were issued the draft report from GMA (Global Market Advisors). The learning from GMA is expected to cover the report prior to distributing and that call took place this past Thursday. They requested some additional information of which was provided the same day. They will have the final report ready for distribution early next week, and I will forward it to you once received. I will also place the report on your agenda for next week, and with your permission, I will schedule the community presentation at which GMA will present.

- The Selection Committee and new hiring process has been in use now for about two months. As indicated at the time, the process was approved, yet some adjustments to it will need to be considered. I am collecting input from those who have served on the committee as well as those who have gone through the process. I will provide more details and suggested changes to you in the near future.

Respectfully submitted,
Larry Denomie III, CEO

Promoting Healthy Air and a Healthy Lifestyle

Air Action Days are a response to the unhealthy levels of GHGs in our air. Generally Air Action Days are enacted during the summer months when it is hot, humid, and air is stagnant, conditions that cause the atmosphere to be overly susceptible to pollutants.

While many cities in the lower part of Michigan have the need to call Air Action Days, we are fortunate enough not to fall subject to the same pollutant levels. However that does not mean we cannot call our own Air Action Days. Go ahead and pick a day out of the week or month to have your own Air Action Day. Choose an activity that you enjoy that promotes healthy air and a healthy lifestyle, such as walking or riding your bike to work. Not only will you cut back on the CO2 emissions, you will improve your individual health as well!

If you should have questions concerning our air quality, please feel free to contact Stephanie Kozich, Air Quality Specialist, (906) 524-5757, ext. 28.

GLIFWC to Survey Eight Michigan Lakes

Biologists with the Great Lakes Indian Fish and Wildlife Commission (GLIFWC) survey inland lakes in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan each year, searching for the presence of aquatic invasive species (AIS). The hunt for unwanted aquatic invasive plants and animals begins in June when GLIFWC staff survey shorelines and other shallow water areas of selected lakes.

The survey includes collection of plankton samples for laboratory analysis. Plankton inspections help detect small organisms such as spiny water fleas and zebra mussel veligers. Data collected from these surveys is shared with management partners including federal, tribal, state, county, and other local partners. Data is also available on GLIFWC’s website, www.glifwc.org.

The lakes scheduled for AIS surveys are listed as follows:

County | Lake
---|---
Gogebic | Bealons Lake
Gogebic, Vilas | Lac Vieux Desert
Iron | Brule Lake
Iron | Indian Lake
Iron | James Lake
Iron | Lake Ottawa
Iron | Stanley Lake
Iron | Swan Lake

For more information or questions regarding these surveys, contact: Miles Falck, GLIFWC Wildlife Biologist, (715) 682-6619, ext. 2124, or e-mail: miles@glifwc.org.

OJIBWA EXPRESS CONVENIENCE IN MARQUETTE OPEN FOR BUSINESS

The Ojibwa Express Convenience in Marquette engaged in a soft opening the weekend of June 20-21, 2015. As the driveway work (required by MDOT) was not completed due to a back order on asphalt, the Northwoods drive entrance was operational. In order to give staff an opportunity to gain some experience with the operating systems and equipment, the soft opening hours were scheduled for 8 a.m. — 8 p.m. Normal hours: 4:30 a.m. — 11 p.m. began on Monday, June 22, 2015. The US41 entrance was scheduled to be completed the following week. Stop in and check out KBIC’s new store.
On June 2, 2015, the KBIC Natural Resources Department (KBNRD) hosted a community environmental forum “Weaving a Sustainable Future” at the KBOCC/Niiwin Akea Center in Baraga. The event had over 60 participants including tribal members, council members, youth, elders, non-native community members, environmental partners, and college and university faculty and students. Information booths featured healthy home cleaning products, eco-friendly diapers, and educational materials from the Great Lakes Indian Fish & Wildlife Commission, Superior Watershed Partnership, and Friends of the Land of Keweenaw. Breakout sessions were well attended and led by multiple KBNRD program staff covering topics such as tribal regulatory programs, climate change, wildlife, restoration, indoor air and healthy homes, treaty rights, fisheries, and mining.

Through an online survey, KBNRD identified the number one environmental topic of interest to the community was alternative and renewable energy. Thus this became the focus for the event with a plenary session on “Strategizing for Tribal Renewable Energy.” This plenary session included a keynote speaker, Kathleen Brosemer, the Environmental Program Manager for the Sault Ste. Marie Chippewa Tribe. In her speech, Brosemer discussed climate change and the importance of renewable energy strategies to slow warming and build communities more resilient to changes occurring. Last year, the Sault Tribe received recognition as a climate leader along with the Blue Lake Rancheria Tribe by President Obama during the White House Tribal Nations Conference. Some of the Sault Tribe’s efforts have included fueling fishing boats with waste cooking oil, reinstalling poorly functioning solar heating systems, and clean diesel and wood heat initiatives. The first and most important strategy has been energy conservation efforts by winterizing tribal homes and buildings in order to reduce energy demand. This has included energy audits in over 39 government buildings and 25 homes as well as lighting retrofits in 21 tribal buildings, full energy retrofits in 438 tribally-owned rental homes, and other energy work in 90 additional tribal homes. As buildings and homes are made more energy efficient, the next step is adding solar and wind electrical generation systems and ground source heat pump systems. In addition, the Sault Tribe is working to reduce fossil fuel use in food production with more local food efforts including increased hunting, gathering, and fishing permits, and planting more fruit trees.

Following Brosemer’s talk, KBIC’s Committee for Alternative & Renewable Energy (CARE) gave a presentation on the efforts that our tribe has taken thus far on the path to renewable energy. Guest speakers included: Susan LaFernier, KBIC Council Member; Jason Ayres, KBIC Real Estate Officer; and Char Spruce, KBIC Environmental Specialist. CARE is currently working on a Strategic Energy Plan which began with a three-year energy consumption survey of both tribally owned and residential buildings. The survey revealed that the tribe spends about $1 million per year on energy, with the two casinos using about 57% of that expense. Tribal households use about 2.5 times the energy of tribally-owned buildings. Like the Sault Tribe, KBIC is focused on first reducing energy consumption then meeting energy demand with renewables. KBIC’s first pilot solar project is located at the Commodity Foods Warehouse.

The Environmental Forum was also a family oriented event by including fun kid’s activities. Thanks to volunteer support from KBIC’s Family Spirit Program and Pre-Primary Education Program, the kids had fun making musical instruments and other crafts out of recycled household items such as shoe boxes and plastic bottles. Staff from KBIC’s native plants program hosted a butterfly garden activity where kids painted puddle rocks, planted milkweed, and participated in a live monarch butterfly release. Kid’s activities concluded with Ojibwe storytelling with Lisa Denomie, KBIC Cultural Committee member, Doreen Blaker (tribal council member) and Denise Moschetto-Meroni.

Overall, the forum was a successful and fun educational event for the community and increased knowledge and inspiration for creating a more sustainable future. The event was made possible with funding support through the Great Lakes Restoration Initiative and the Indigenous Environmental Network.

~ GOT CONNECTION? KEEP IT SAFE! ~

Having friends and family right at your fingertips 24/7 is fun and keeps you connected, but take a moment to consider your safety and the messages you leave in the digital world:

- If you text, it is no longer a secret. Personal or intimate texts with your boyfriend or girlfriend can be saved and shared after a breakup.
- Facebook rant? It might be seen by your mother, your child, or your boss.
- Tweeting your vacation location? You are also tweeting that you are not at home.
- If you don’t know the person, don’t friend the person! There are sexual predators on the world wide web, and profile pictures may not even be real.
- Do not give out your passwords! Others do not need to peruse through your digital world or post you as a person.
